Nestled in the treetops, Rabbit Hill Farm is perched 80 feet above Crockett Cove and East Penobscot Bay. Bordered by the Crockett Cove Woods Preserve, granite boulders and the sea, the land is abundant with birds, deer, fox, rabbits and more.

The site is an original Emily Muir designed cottage, with expansive decks overlooking Crockett Cove, Rabbit Island and the wind towers on Vinalhaven. Watch a schooner parade, lobstermen checking their traps and osprey fishing in the cove. Guests are invited to visit with baby rabbits, tour the farm, hike to shore for a picnic or explore Rabbit Island.

The rabbits are an important component of the farm's unique soil-building technique and contribute greatly to the success of the crops and flowers. Owners Cheryl Wixson and Flip McFarland have built a self-sustainable homestead and certified organic farm which creates Rabbit Hill Farm-to-Table treats, such as Bread & Butter Pickles, Sweet & Spicy Beet Hummus, Lobster Cheesecake, Carrot Ginger Marmalade, Smoked Rabbit, Maine Wheat French Bread and 44 North Cappuccino Popsicles. Deer Isle Cider Co. produces a craft sweet cider and a sparkling hard cider.

The Rabbit Hill lifestyle, like all island life, is dependent on the tides and the weather. Daily activities always revolve around food, both for the day and the months ahead. Be it fresh caught lobster or mackerel, just dug clams, chanterelles foraged from Rabbit Island or crops harvested from the garden, Cheryl & Flip eat and drink well.

They are passionate about their food and the delicate ecosystem of our beautiful island. Dedicated to enjoying the benefits of eating a seasonal, local and organic diet while supporting a sustainable way of life, they love to share their knowledge with others. Educational events are available for the whole family, including private farm tours, popover luncheons and farm-to-table dinners.

The future of the island depends on how we protect our natural resources and the environment and how we care for others. Year-round affordable housing for families working in our community is vital. Although most events at Rabbit Hill are free, we ask guests to join us in supporting:

*Island Workforce Housing
